Simon de Senlis Primary Weekly Update – 18th November 2022

Dear Parents and Carers,

We have been so proud over the past weeks to have received four external awards for our wonderful school:

The IQM Flagship Award for Inclusion- one of only 100 across the whole country who have received this award for our support for all children in school.

The Music Mark Award- we were nominated by NMPAT for our commitment and dedication to music and the performing arts.

The Gold Sports Mark- awarded to us for the great PE lessons, clubs and sporting events that the children take part in, along with our wonderful ethos of taking part and helping other.

Reading Challenge Award- as we continue to support reading for pleasure across school, it was wonderful to receive this award for the second year running

I am so proud of our school, the wonderful children, amazing families and fabulous staff that make SdS such an inspirational place!

Please enjoy your weekend and I look forward to seeing you next week.

Mrs Fennelly

Friday 18th November.

The children have been invited to dress in multicolor today in support of Children in Need and we have raised an amazing £262!!

Well done everyone!

Thank you to everyone at Simon de Senlis
from Pudsey Bear

Poster of the Week

This week we talked about how unique we are, how there is only one of each of us and that because of that we are all different. Our uniqueness means that we are diverse, with many differences between us. Understanding our own uniqueness and that of others mean we are accepting of all which is so important for our school and the wider community.

Parents and visitors are reminded that Danes Camp and Tesco supermarket kindly offer free parking for dropping off and picking up your children.

Please be aware the local police will be monitoring parking and issuing tickets where necessary, we ask that you remain considerate of our neighbours and their access requirements.

The car park at school is for staff parking only, unless you have a pre-arranged agreement.

Please leave our disabled bays for our disabled staff and visitors, access is required at all times.

Many thanks

What Parents & Carers Need to Know about ROBLOX

Roblox is one of the most popular video games on the market. By 2020, the game's makers were claiming that more than half of children in the USA play it. As a 'sandbox' title, Roblox offers a huge amount of creative freedom: it lets players create their own gaming experiences with the Roblox Studio to build custom levels and games, which can then be shared with other players online. Roblox fosters creative thinking and enjoys a robust online community of fans.

WHAT ARE THE RISKS?

CONTACT WITH STRANGERS
Roblox encourages players to communicate online (including a group chat facility). This could expose children to risks such as scammers, online predators, harassment, griefers and more. The in-game chat has some filters, but isn't perfect: players can still send harmful messages to others – such as general hostility – while predators can reach out to children directly.

PUBLIC SERVERS
Roblox has private or VIP servers which allow people to play exclusively with their friends, but this costs money. Most Roblox players will instead be on public servers that anyone can join. Servers can host games which focus on all kinds of aspects, including direct player interaction. Some games and servers, therefore, will put children more at risk of contact from strangers than others.

ONLINE DATERS
These are also called 'ODers' and are quite common in Roblox. An ODer is an individual who joins a game with the intention of finding someone to date online – and eventually meet in person. Such online dating is against the Roblox community guidelines, but this usually doesn't deter ODers. Some player-built Roblox game worlds have even been designed with online dating specifically in mind.

IN-APP PURCHASES
Roblox is actually free to download and play, but bear in mind that there are some hidden costs. Players are encouraged to make purchases in the game, for example, using real money. People can also buy extra Robux (the in-game currency) to spend on cosmetic items in the game, and some private or VIP servers also have a cost.

Advice for Parents & Carers

SET PARENTAL CONTROLS

Roblox comes with several parental control options, which are explained well on the game's official website. It's essential to enter the correct date of birth for your child, as that allows Roblox to automatically apply the appropriate chat filters. The game also allows parents and carers to set monthly spending restrictions and monitor their child's account.

DISABLE PRIVATE MESSAGING

Roblox's private messaging function raises the risk of children being contacted by people they may not want to speak with – potentially leading to bullying, harassment, toxicity and scam attempts. The game allows you to disable messages from anyone who hasn't been added as a friend on your child's account.

PRIVATE SERVERS

If your child has some genuine friends to play Roblox online with, paying for a private or VIP server decreases the risk of contact from strangers. Even then, however, some players could invite other people – who might not necessarily be child friendly – into the private server. If your child is a Roblox fan, it's important to talk with them regularly about who they are playing the game with.

MONITOR SPENDING

If they don't understand they're using real money, it's easy for children to accidentally spend a sizeable amount in the game. Using parental controls to place limits on their spending will help avoid any nasty financial surprises. Ensuring that you have two-factor authentication on your payment accounts also makes it harder for your child to spend money inadvertently.

DEALING WITH STRANGERS

At some point in their development, your child will need to learn how to deal with strangers online. Show them how to block and report any users who are upsetting them or asking uncomfortable questions. Talking to them about what's OK to discuss – and what they should never tell a stranger online – will help them understand how to communicate with other people online safely.

What Parents & Carers Need to Know about FIFA 23

FIFA 23, like its many predecessors, is a massively popular football simulator featuring lifelike recreations of thousands of real-world players, drawn from teams around the globe. While the gameplay is subtly improved year on year, the publisher EA Sports' tweaks tend to focus on FIFA Ultimate Team mode, which can tempt gamers of all ages to spend real money recruiting better players for their side. With each new release of FIFA comes a host of new players to unlock – meaning that youngsters can feel pressured to keep buying to compete with their friends.

AGE RATING
PEGI 3

WHAT ARE THE RISKS?

RELEASE RAZZAMATAZZ

FIFA 23 will be the last in the blockbuster series, before EA goes solo with its own football title next season. This 'end of an era' vibe – coupled with a huge advertising budget making the new release almost impossible to miss – will elevate FIFA 23 into even more of a 'must have' for football-mad young gamers, no matter how minor the updates are on last year's version.

AGE-INAPPROPRIATE CHAT

Based on a popular sport which appeals to people of all ages, the FIFA franchise draws a huge audience of both children and adults. Communication is a key element, with many players enjoying in-game audio chat via headsets. With the mixed age range of players and a lack of regulation, however, chats can often turn offensive or toxic – especially in the heat of competitive matches.

CIRCLING SCAMMERS

The popularity of FIFA Ultimate Team (FUT) mode has led to online scammers convincing many impressionable gamers to pay real money for non-existent FUT coins and player cards, or directing unwary FIFA fans to phishing sites. If your child gives these individuals their login details, the scammers can access not only their carefully built team but potentially your payment information.

ADDICTIVE NATURE

One match on FIFA (usually around 15 minutes, but often lengthened by extra time and penalties) almost invariably leads to another, it can be a powerful temptation for young players, regardless of unfinished homework or an approaching bedtime. If the "just one more game" mindset starts to impact a child's daily routine, it could be a sign of gaming disorder: a recognised mental health issue.

IN-GAME PROMOTIONS

Unless precautions are taken, dedicated FIFA fans can spend significant sums when attempting to improve their Ultimate Team. Most top-level players can be unlocked by simply participating in matches, but some sought-after stars can be obtained more quickly in limited-time promotions which cost a large amount of FIFA points (the in-game currency, often paid for with real money).

GAMBLING-ADJACENT BEHAVIOUR

Ultimate Team has become a major feature in FIFA due to the revenues it generates. It can also be addictive, with children striving to earn coins and level up while swapping, selling and buying players. Spending FUT coins to open a player pack (which many experts have likened to gambling) is designed to be an exciting act – with bright lights, fanfare and attention-grabbing prizes.

Advice for Parents & Carers

BE SELECTIVE WITH CHATS

It's enormous fun for FIFA players to chat online with friends, even as their teams do battle in the game. It's probably the safest idea, though, to restrict contact with strangers. By turning off voice chat in FIFA and allowing cross-party chat in their device's settings, your child can speak to people who are already on their friends list but won't be able to talk to (or hear) strangers online.

STAY ALERT FOR SCAMS

There are some key things to remember about potential FIFA scams. Firstly, EA never contacts users via any method other than emails to the account holder (which may well be you). Neither will they ever ask for a player's username or password outside the game itself. EA's terms and conditions outlaw the buying of FUT coins, so anyone selling them should be treated as suspicious.

CONTROL SPENDING

If your child plays Ultimate Team mode on FIFA, ensure their account isn't linked to your payment methods – so they'll need your permission to make in-game purchases. Alternatively, you could use parental controls to limit spending – or set up a pre-paid 'allowance'. When excitedly clicking options on screen, it's easy for a young person to forget the real-world repercussions of online purchases.

AVOID 'EXTRA TIME'

If your child's spending a lot of time on FIFA 23 and seems less enthusiastic about other activities in their life, you could consider restricting how long they can play for each day with the parental controls in their device's settings. Even if they're not playing on their console or computer, there's a FIFA companion app for smartphones – but that can be limited through parental controls, too.

Dear Children,

Are you looking forward to Christmas this year? I certainly am! Christmas is a very exciting but busy time for me.

The elves are busy making toys

The reindeer are practising their sleigh runs

And I'm busy preparing my list of who's been good.

I will be getting my sleigh ready for the long journey on Christmas Eve. In between I will try and reply to as many of you as possible.

THIS WEEK IN OUR ASSEMBLIES

This week our Anti-bullying ambassadors took over the assembly reins and spoke to the children about Anti-bullying week.

They talked about this year's theme: Reach Out. Children learnt about reaching out to friends, parents and teachers if they find they need help from others. They also learnt the importance of looking out for others and reaching out to those who need our help.

NHS Mental Health Support Team Parent and child questionnaires

Dear Parents and Carers, we are very fortunate to be working with the NHS 'Mental Health Support Team' (MHST) to support our school community. Please see some more information below about MHSTs and what they will offer at Simon de Senlis.

WHAT ARE THE MENTAL HEALTH SUPPORT TEAMS?

Mental Health Support Teams (MHST) have been created to offer early intervention, low intensity, mental health support within schools for children and young people with mild to moderate mental health difficulties. The MHST will also support the Mental Health Lead in each education setting to introduce and develop their Whole School Approach. The MHST will also offer support and advice to education setting staff to identify the most appropriate services for their need and help liaise with other appropriate services.

More information can be accessed via the Northamptonshire Healthcare Foundation Trust website:

<https://www.nhft.nhs.uk/search/venue/mental-health-support-teams-485>

As part of their audit, the MHST have asked us to distribute questionnaires to all members of our school community including staff, children and parents.

Simon de Senlis Primary

NHS Mental Health Support Team Parent and child questionnaires

There are two short questionnaires - one to be completed by a parent/carer and one to be completed by your child. You can support your child with reading and accessing the questions as you feel is appropriate. This is an anonymous survey which will help inform future practise and outcomes.

We would really appreciate it if you could take the time to fill in the questionnaires as honestly as possible before November 30th.

Orchid odour

The Cambridge University Botanic Garden has revealed a rare orchid that smells like dead rats and rotting cabbages! The botanical gardens have over 8,000 species of plants on its 40-acre site. The orchid, Bulbophyllum phalaenopsis, is native to Papua New Guinea and it is very rare for it to flower away from its natural habitat. Experts from the gardens say that its petals look like 'meat with maggots on it' and it has the 'delicate aroma of rotting cabbages'. They Tweeted that visitors to the Tropics House could find the plant by following their noses 'you'll know you're getting close when you start to smell dead rats decomposing next to rotting fish'! The orchid's stench serves a purpose attracting pollinators, like flies and beetles, that would normally lay their eggs on smelly places such as faeces and rotting materials.

'Smiling' Sun!

NASA's Solar Dynamic Observatory, that studies the Sun and how it affects space around the Earth and other worlds, has released a video that it says shows the sun 'smiling' at the end. NASA Tweeted 'NASA's Solar Dynamics Observatory caught the Sun 'smiling.' Seen in ultraviolet light, these dark patches on the Sun are known as coronal holes and are regions where fast solar wind gushes out into space.' A coronal hole is a temporary region of relatively cool, less dense plasma in the solar corona, where the Sun's magnetic field extends into interplanetary space as an open field. Their locations can help experts predict when auroras near the Arctic (northern lights or aurora borealis) and Antarctic (aurora australis or southern lights) may occur.

No Bounty to celebrate?

Pictured: Limited Edition No Bounty Celebrations.

Bounty bars have been removed from some Celebrations tubs! The decision to trial the Celebrations packs with no Bounty bars has been revealed to be in response to 'public demand'. Mars Wrigley, the company who produce the chocolate selection boxes, said that their research, which involved 2,000 British adults, suggested that '18% would feel irritated to find only Bounty bars were left in the tub, while 58% believed it would lead to a family argument... 39% wanted the bars gone for good [and] 22% liked Bounty the least of all the tub's options. Some 28% were of the opinion coconut had no place in a chocolate bar at all.' The limited-edition tubs will include more of the Mars, Snickers, Milky Way, Galaxy and Maltesers variants than normal to make up for the missing Bounty bars.

Do you think the results of the survey would be different if they had asked children for their opinions too?

Should we ever have to change our appearance?

In the news this week

Pupils in schools should not be unfairly singled out for having afro hair, the Equality and Human Rights Commission (EHRC) has said in new guidelines for schools. The EHRC reported that rules banning certain styles are likely to be breaking the law. This includes styles such as afros, braids, cornrows, plaits, locks, and head coverings. The new guidance was announced to help schools in England, Scotland and Wales ensure their hair policies are fair.

Things to talk about at home ...

- > Have you, or do you know anyone who has, had to change your/their appearance for work or for school?
- > Share your thoughts on the new changes, do you think it's important these guidelines are given to workplaces and schools?

There are eight billion people living on Earth today, according to the United Nations (UN).

It's hard to calculate the number of people in the world accurately, and the UN admits its sums could be out by a year or two - but it estimates that on 15 November the eight billion line will be crossed.

It is only 11 years since the population hit seven billion, and experts say this huge growth is because of many reasons including better health, nutrition and medicine.
